

EDA040 Concurrent and Real-Time Programming: Project schedule

Schedule (for study-week 1 to 7 of HT2):

	31/10	sw1	sw2	sw3	sw4	sw5	sw6	room
Mon:	F9							E:B
Thu/Fri:		P1	P2	P3*	P4*	P5	P6	#

#) Computer-room according to the group you signed up for, see info on course web page.

*) No room is scheduled for P3-P4; schedule a meeting/email with your teacher if needed.

F9: Lecture about the project (technology and organization).

Groups with 4 persons to be registered

Internal web pages and hardware/camera devices are accessed by id=rt and passwd=given at intro lecture (F9).

P1: Group-wise discussions and system design. Review of available classes.

Questions are answered by your teacher.

Note: A proposed overall design for your system should be handed in to your teacher no later than Wednesday the 9/11 at 10.00. The design should describe functionality, classes, objects, selected protocols, etc., according to the specifications.

P2: Each group discusses its design with the teacher, and comments are considered as implementation/testing of a less suitable design can be very time consuming.

P3: Guidance. A possibly revised design is presented and discussed, if needed. More details and practical hints for the implementation.

P4: Guidance. The basic functionality should be implemented and tested.

P5: Issues about integration and final testing of your system, which is preliminarily carried out and demonstrated. Performance and stability discussed.

The required material (code and documentation, viewable on the network) should be handed in no later than Tuesday 6/12 at 10.00. It is very important to keep this deadline!

P6: Sales-oriented final presentation of your results, with the other groups as potential knowledgeable and demanding customers. Testing/demo according to web page.

Any required adjustments (remaining after P6) of the software or the documentation should be provided no later than one week after feedback received or at an agreed upon deadline with your supervisor.

Bold items F9, P1, P2, P5 and P6 are compulsory. Occasionally, e.g. in case of sickness or travels, agree with your group and inform your teacher. Time, place, and form (computer room, e-mail, etc.) for the sessions P3 and P4 depends on each group (advancement or type of problems) and on teacher preferences.
