

Assignment 4

Create an abstract representation of the instructions for the abstract machine described in Nielson 3.1 and model for the machine. Add functionality to execute the machine according to the operational semantics.

Construct a compiler for the While language according to section 3.2. The input to the compiler should use the representation defined in assignment 1.

Optionally you may implement the modifications detailed in Exercises 3.7–9.